OBSERVATION:

- The balance of 34 families have already completed the electricity connection on their own through self-application from MeECL regular service connection before the implementation of RGGVY scheme.
- Information on the amount of electricity bill could be collected only from 7 (seven) beneficiaries out of 15 (fifteen) as the other beneficiaries were not present in their house at the time of inspection. Of these seven beneficiaries, 4 (four) of them have received bills once in two months at Rs. 350, Rs. 235, Rs. 232 and one beneficiaries received a bill of Rs. 503 for three months. The other three beneficiaries have received the first bill since 2012 at Rs. 4000 and Rs. 4800 each for the other two beneficiaries which is an arrear bill.

SUGGESTIONS:

- The revenue section incharge of this area need to take all necessary steps to ensure that monthly electricity bills are regularly determined and distributed to the beneficiaries so as to relieve the poor beneficiaries from the burden of arrear bills.
- Special consideration should also be given to the poor beneficiaries to clear the arrear bills on installment basis.

OBSERVATION:

- The balance of 32 families have already completed the electricity connection on their own through self-application from MeECL regular service connection before the implementation of RGGVY scheme.
- Though 27 beneficiaries have been covered under the scheme yet only 13 beneficiaries were inspected. This is due to the fact that the location of the households spread out from one area to another within the same village and that also not motorable as it is a hilly area.
- It was noted that the distribution of electricity bills is better in this village as the electricity bill comes once in every two months and most of the beneficiaries have cleared the bill once they have received.
